There will probably never be a greater fair in Janesville than upon which the gates will open tomorrow morning at seven o'clock. Certainly it is the greatest one in the history of the county, and is a war time fair of magnitude never before attempted by the local fair association.

It will fill a definite purpose in providing the means of being an inspiration and instruction for bigger and better crops, finer herds, more successful gardens, greater food production.

The fair will be ready when the gates are opened tomorrow, exhibits will be in place, programs arranged, the grounds in shape, and all concessions in running order. Directors of the fair have been leading a small army of workers for the last few days putting the finishing touches on the buildings and grounds. Yesterday there were more cattle and horses on the grounds than there have ever been, two days prior to the opening. Nearly one hundred head had been placed in the stalls Sunday morning and all day yesterday and today, they have been coming in ever increasing numbers. Accommodations have been provided for more than three hundred head of cattle alone, and it is likely that more space will have to be provided at the last moment.

Whether a man may be a breeder of livestock or a mere city dweller, a sign of some of the animals on display is well worth the price of admission.

Few people can even imagine a hog weighing more than a thousand pounds, yet such a one is there, tremendous, impossible, a fine example of what Rock County can do in the breeding line.

The hog, which is owned by John Fisher, is a duc and a grand champion, and is probably the heaviest hog in America.

John Fisher is one of many champion cattle not only from Rock county but from the farms of some of the most famous breeders in the state will be shown. Many animals are on exhibition here, for the only time they will be seen at a county fair.

Bulls which are the pride of a whole county, bulls which weigh as much as a good sized caribou, bulls as large as a grizzly bear, as an antelope, bulls of every breed and color, calves, heifers, yearlings, sheep, horses, swine, poultry, the finest examples of the breeder's art combined to make the livestock exhibit at the Janesville fair one of the greatest of its kind and rivaled only by those of the larger state fairs.

A myriad of tents have transformed the appearance of the grounds; horse tents, wagon tents, show tents, eating tents, machinery tents, rest tents, auto tents, living tents, spotted all over the grounds, changing bare fields into regular cities, and each with its particular attraction for the people.

There is something at the fair to appeal to every taste; practically every field of human endeavor will be represented by some exhibit.

The best of everything will be the cattle, free attractions, plows or racing horses, "hot-dogs" or ferris wheels, the directors of the fair have selected only from the best. There will be more shows on the grounds than ever before, and they will be clean and wholesome. There are the latest models in the automobile line, the best of farm machinery, the most amusing of free attractions, fastest of races, the finest of fairs.

Because the Janesville fair has chosen earlies, more variety and higher quality is possible. Soon the state fairs start and the big exhibitors will concentrate on them; many of the exhibits shown here will be sent directly to state fairs throughout the middle west. Showmen, whose acts are seen usually only on the "big circuit" have taken advantage of the early dates here to put on their attractions.

The Janesville fair, as shown under the direction of the present administration, is relatively new; it is still building its reputation. Possibly it has not had in the past the recognition accorded some of the older county fairs in the southern part of the state. But this week's fair will shatter all records for size, attractions and attendance.

Tomorrow has been specially designated as Children's day. An unusual

Wheat Pit Deserted
Result Of Decision
To Commandeer Crop

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The federal government having determined to take over the wheat crop and distribute it, those who went to the visitors' gallery of the board of trade turned in their coats to the windows which overlooked the tumultuous mob normally is vociferously responsive to scraps of information concerning exports from Argentine, or even the appearance of a rain cloud over some dry areas in Kansas, there was only silence. Two or three idle traders were seated in chairs near the pit, no one was in it. The leaders of the mob, who had gathered in a cage above the pit, recording quotations, rested his chin on one hand. On the opening he chalked up $2.14 as the sole bid for September wheat, and resumed his reflections. There was no longer a string of messenger boys scurrying between his cage and the telegraph wires. One boy is retained, but at the moment he was down in the street listening to a band. The whole scene suggested dust and sweat.

Grain Control Board.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Creation of a grain control board within the food administration to supervise distribution of wheat and manufacturers' sale of flour will be announced within a few days. The board will have authority to carry out regulations governing wheat and flour announced last night by the food administration.

The Beloit Boys' band will give concerts. The showmen will put on a complete program of free attractions on the stage before the grandstand. There will be pony races, and running races for Rock county horses the first day of the fair will be a big day, everything is ready. The fair awaits the crowds in the cattle department.

ARGENTINE MINISTER
QUITTS TO DO A DUE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Buenos Aires, Aug. 13.—Dr. Gomez the Argentine minister of the interior, is at his official desk again after having resigned to fight a duel with Marco Auerlio Avellaneda, a member of the chamber of deputies, found fault with him because the federal government took the governorship of Buenos Aires province away from Dr. Marcelino Ugarté.

Dr. Gomez promptly resigned his portfolio to challenge Deputy Avellaneda.

As soon as his resignation had been accepted he sent his seconds to call on those of his deputy the next day. Dr. Gomez "purely from a political standpoint and without the slightest intention of refection upon his personal honor."

This was satisfactory, the duel was called off and Dr. Gomez was re-appointed by President Taft to the interior ministry.

WILL SEEK CHANGES
IN ANTI-TRUST LAW

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Madison, Aug. 13.—That an attempt has been made to have Governor Philipp include in the call for a special session of the legislature, a modification of the anti-trust law passed by the last legislature, is one of the discoveries made here today. It was evident the anti-trust law did not meet with the approval of some of the manufacturers who passed and an attempt was made to have the bill vetoed in the closing days of the session.

Now it is stated on good authority that during the past week manufacturers asked that the repeal of modification of the law be included in the call for a special session.

MANY KANSAS CITY
SALOONS ARE CLOSED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 13.—United States deputy marshals were today advising between 200 and 300 saloon keepers, principally in the heart of the business district to cease selling liquor and wine in compliance with President Wilson's ordering saloons closed within half a mile of military camps. Practically half of the hotels were affected by the orders, as units of military were quartered in the downtown district. Units are stationed in other parts of the city and it is thought that about half of the bars in Kansas City would be forced to suspend business. Saloon after saloon was closed by the proprietors immediately after receipt of the warning.

This will affect twenty-one cities and towns in Wisconsin and includes the company's holdings at Kilbourn, Prairie du Sac, Berlin, Orme and Portage and other cities. BELOIT MAN DROWNS
SWIMMING IN RIVERCharles Dingman Drowned in Upper River While Visiting Friends in This City.

Rock river claimed its third victim this season when Charles Dingman, of Beloit, age twenty-eight, was drowned while attempting to swim the river near the second sand bar, about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Dingman, with George Hesseauer, of Rockford, formerly of this city, and Ole Meyers of this city, undressed on the east bank of the river just opposite the second sand bar. Hesseauer and Meyers were first to get across the river and were sitting on the shore when they heard Dingman, who was then about in the middle of the river, cry for help. Hesseauer got to Dingman before he went down and was treading him in a post which was projecting out of the water about two rods from shore, but before they reached it Hesseauer became exhausted and loosening his grasp on Dingman, allowed him to sink.

The police department was summoned and arrived at the scene about twenty minutes after the body had gone down. The body was recovered by William Marsh after ten or fifteen minutes of dragging the river. Resuscitation methods were employed but were fruitless, the body having been in the water so long that life was extinct.

The body was placed in a row-boat and taken down the river to the launch club dock and then to Ryan's morgue where examination was made by Coroner D. Frank Ryan and Dr. Fred Sutherland. Both pronounced death as resulting from suffocation.

The river at the point where Dingman was drowned was very treacherous and a swift current approaches near the shore. The body was found about sixty feet from shore in about twelve feet of water.

For the past three weeks Mr. Dingman has been employed by the Fairbanks-Morse & Co. of Beloit, and his wife had been visiting at the home of O. Meyers on St. Mary's avenue, over the weekend.

Prior to Dingman's coming to Beloit he was employed as spinner in woolen mills in Zanesville, Ohio, and a spinner by trade.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dingman, a father, William, and step-mother of Zanesville, O., two brothers, Frank and Albert, and one sister, Mrs. H. Smith, all of Zanesville.

The body will be removed to Zanesville, Ohio, where burial will be made.

AMBULANCE UNITS
OF U. S. TO ITALY

Milan, Italy, Aug. 13.—Arrangements are being made for sending to the Italian front several American ambulance units. The first public appearance of the units will be on Aug. 14, 1918, at the French national hospital, when along with the Russians, Canadians, English, Belgian and Australian troops, they participated in the military parade at Paris.

Almost without exception they are students from the French schools, colleges and universities in Indo-China, who number seven, must withdraw from the appointment, the paper says.

The announcement there early in 1918 that volunteer battalions would be formed for service in France resulted almost in the depletion of the French educational institutions. The students enlisted almost to a man.

In the battalions now serving in France are Annamites with the rank of count, with the rank of colonel and the rank of first, second and third classes and with various other distinctions of rank and nobility. Among them selves all the courtesies to which these ranks give title are scrupulously observed.

But when the battalions are formed for fighting or other service on the French front the counts and the marquises become mere private soldiers that the temporarily are, and the nobility of all the rest.

When the Annamites were first brought to France there was no idea of using them as fighting troops. Their small stature seemed to preclude that. They were drilled and employed in all the services of the rear, such as convoy chauffeurs and builders, foresters, rations and similar occupations. Their constant proximity to the front, however, soon brought them an ardent desire to participate in the fighting, and now after a little more than a year of faithful service in the auxiliary service of the French army they have been given their chance to establish their rights in the fighting ranks.

The general opinion expressed in the press is that nothing will come of the meeting of socialists.

Hold Out Little Hope.

Amsterdam, Aug. 13.—The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger says the decision of the British labor party will not affect anything regarding the home attached to the British Expeditionary force in view of the changes which have taken place in Russia. The paper does not believe much good will come from the program, and considers the attitude of the American government more logical in refusing passports to the American delegates.

LOCAL "Y" PLANS ECONOMY MEASURES

Directors to Consider Elimination of Physical Director as War Time Money Saving Scheme.

Directors of the local Y. M. C. A. meet this evening to consider the question of the physical work for the coming year. In line with the policy adopted by associations throughout the country, the local Y. M. C. A. will do as much as possible that can be done in expense, and it has been proposed that the other secretaries take over the work of physical director, thus saving about fifteen hundred dollars for the association. The question will be considered from every angle before this radical step is taken, and if possible, economies along other lines will take a precedence over the elimination of the physical director.

Former permission of the director will be asked by Director C. R. Bearmore that he may assist in the association work at "Y" but at Camp Douglas. Mr. Bearmore will probably leave for the state camp on the twenty-second of this month.

Work on the "Y" tennis court is being rushed, and it is likely that they will be in condition for playing in the middle of this week. Interest in tennis is slow in developing this season, but with the courts in good shape a number of tournaments will be planned to start until late in the fall.

The water system which has been tragically absent for the past week or so, because of the bursting of the boiler, will be in running order as soon as necessary parts arrive. The showers and tank will reopen within the course of the next few days.

GOSLING SKINNED ALIVE BY CARDINALS

LEAGUE LEADERS' TAIL FEATHERS MISSING TODAY AFTER CARDS JERK OUTS TO 4 COUNT VICTORY.

KEARNS DOES "TRICK"

Nick Nicked Goslings to Delight of Mates and Crowd Which Followed Them—Gets Good Support.

NEKST SUNDAY:
Cards at Whitewater.

Watertown's Goslings looked a lot more like and felt a whole lot more like the proverbial Ugly Ducklings after the Cardinals got a toe-hold on their tail feathers yesterday, and when the home port birds sprang a half-Nelson on the Watertown birds they were fit for the ducks under the sun. For the last two of the nine birds to fall to the Captain "Snick" Eberts' Cards traveled up to Watertown yesterday and wailed the whey from the milk-fed Goslings. The result was a 6 to 4 victory for the Cards.

Another, the mighty, erstwhile was touched for total of eight safe blows, while our new hope, Nick Kearns, nicked the league leaders and left them down to four. And the Kearns' pair of new players were still in Cardinal unis. There were Duke Kavanaugh, formerly with the Furies, and Mike Callahan of Chico. The latter was in left field and Kavanaugh was at his old position at second. Cook was in at short.

Both teams started right off without hesitation and each collected three tallies in the opening stanza. Playing on both sides was raged although the Cards had to work a little harder than Watertown to gather its trio of tallies.

Hits by Eberts, Kavanaugh and Cook were agreeable for Janesville's start. After the first they settled down and some air-tight ball was seen up to the seventh. The day was damp and the ground was soaked with a heavy rain of the morning. It was anything but ideal for baseball, but the Cards were constantly in trouble because of the slippery condition of the horse-shoe.

Kearns singled in the seventh and was advanced to second when Eberts followed with one to left field. Joe Ryan stepped up to the plate and picked one to his liking and when he was ordered to reverse speed at third base Kearns and Eberts had a race to the bag. Seeing the couple desired to catch the car, he began maneuvering around and kept them in his car. The fellow jumped out and tossed to the driver half a dollar. "It was only fifty cents for the lady, too," he was notified. Desiring to catch the car he teased over another half dollar and they ran for their lives. They just missed it. The young fellow was sore and it is safe to say at least five hundred people on the corner in the next hour heard his description of just what he had done. A town Janesville was all because he had been held up by a taxi-car driver.

City Attorney Lange went into the matter early last week and had a conference with members of the board of directors of the fair. Mr. Lange advised local people as well as strangers to inquire what the fare is before they enter the automobile business to the fair grounds and from the latter place to downtown.

The Cardinals sent Callahan around in the eighth and led 8 to 3 as the ninth opened. The Goslings strayed hard for a rally in their final inning, but the close formation of their visitors prevented them securing more than a single run.

Answell was away off and was in utter lack of control. He passed five batters and succeeded in fanning back.

Kearns, on the other hand, had the Goslings at his mercy throughout and made six of them swing like Dutch windmills. He gave three men passes. Eberts, Cook, Callahan and Delaney were able to negotiate steals on Hughes, but when it came down to getting in from third base was an entirely different proposition. The Watertown outfit guarded the plate like the duck ranchers guard their geese up there. Cook and Callahan realized it when they were caught by the clever backstop on great throws both from the infield and the outer gardens. In either case it was a lunker, but as ordinarily the throws would have been safe. They were whipped out in a double play which for weirdness has an East Indian flavor to it. Cook was messaged to the bases as he was nailed between the bases. Shiflers first hurled it to Hughes, who caught Cook, and then went to Spies, to Henke, to Hughes to Spies to Henke to Spies. Not to be outdone by any scut of that kind, Al. Cook turned around and made a double pass.

CLAIM DIME FARE ENOUGH FOR TRIP TO FAIR GROUND

City Officials Against Auto Drive Working "Hold Up" Game on Local People and Strangers.

The auto to the fair grounds is not going to be tolerated this year. The fair ground auto-bus driver was a leading topic for discussion for city officials during the close of the fair this week and all went on record against charging more than ten cents for the trip one way.

Instances were cited when on occasions at previous fairs unscrupulous auto-bus drivers literally held up the car occupants for fares from time to time as high as a dime. City officials are of the opinion that a dime is enough. Co-operating with the fair board they have requested all men engaged in doing an auto-bus business between the fair grounds and downtown, and vice versa, to display on their machines the price they are charging for the trip.

Major James A. Rathke, Chief of Police, P. D. Champion and City Attorney, Charles C. Lange, voiced the opinion that charging of more than a dime for the trip and the stat of their arguments was that ten cents fare would still leave a handsome profit to the taxi-cab driver.

The influx of so many strangers to the fair is the incentive for many a number of local men and youths to go into the auto bus business for the week. The tendency in some cases has been to charge just as much as is figured the car occupants will pay without making too much of a holler.

This "hold-up" game, in the opinion of city officials, must stop. Arguing from a civic standpoint, Mayor Rathke showed how the charging of exorbitant fares to strangers was a harm to the city, to local people, and to the fair itself.

Strangers who come to Janesville for the fair and who pay a quarter or half a dollar to ride one way, are going home and "knock" the city for the hold-up, which is really is, for a quarter is too much to charge for the trip.

Local people are against paying that amount, too, and taking a man with a family a quarter or head totals up pretty high some time.

Chief of Police Champion is against the charging of over a dime for practice, the same reason as Mayor Rathke.

"Last year," he said, "we had any number of complaints from strangers against the high prices they had to pay to auto drivers. One taxi-cab man brought a young Rockford fellow and lady down from the grounds and stepped at Main and Milwaukee street just as the automobilist was ready to depart. Seeing the couple desired to catch the car, he began maneuvering around and kept them in his car. The fellow jumped out and tossed to the driver half a dollar. "It was only fifty cents for the lady, too," he was notified.

Desiring to catch the car he teased over another half dollar and they ran for their lives. They just missed it. Past Week's Weeps

The week's record in each league of games played, won and lost, with runs, runs, errors, men left on bases and runs scored by opponents, including the dates of Saturday, August 11, follows:

Chicago in the American league is moving difficulties in holding onto first place, while New York in the National league has brought to a close its victorious trip through the west. The White Sox winning only one game out of six last week, saw their lead cut down to virtually nothing. Yesterday they gained slightly on Boston by defeating Cleveland 10 to 5, Boston's winning. The Giants by taking five out of six games, unless their lead still further, and unless some of the first division teams show greatly improved form Labor Day, or shortly thereafter, may see McGraw's club with the 1917 National League pennant virtually assured.

For a league-leading team, Chicago played poorly in its meet against Philadelphia and Washington, second division clubs. Monday's and Tuesday's games were lost to Philadelphia the first after eleven innings. Against Washington in four games the White Sox could make only two runs and fifteen hits, and they won only one game. Two hits were the result of Chicago's efforts in Friday's and Saturday's games.

Red Sox Improve.

In contrast to Chicago's poor work Boston and Cleveland improved their play and gained on the leaders. The Red Sox broke even in two games with Cleveland, and then won four out of five from Detroit. Cleveland traded third place back and forth with Detroit early in the week, but by winning four out of five games from New York, gained a fair lead over the troublesome Tigers. New York and Detroit fell back slightly through their poor work in their respective series against Cleveland and Boston. Returning home yesterday, the Tigers beat St. Louis and gained on Cleveland, defeated by Chicago.

In the National, St. Louis failed to stop New York after the Blue Jays had taken the lead out of first in the series with Cincinnati. Three times in succession St. Louis fell before the Giants, but on Saturday the Giants met their only defeat of the week at the hands of Goodwin, a recruit pitcher. New York did not lose a series on the trip concluded Saturday.

Philadelphia regained second place during the week, notwithstanding two defeats at the hands of Pittsburgh.

Moran's men completed the series with Chicago by winning both games with the Pirates. In addition to their one victory over New York, the St. Louis team won two out of three from Brooklyn.

Cincinnati continued in a slump, the winning power of Mathewson's club having weakened greatly against the eastern clubs. In a double header with St. Louis yesterday Cincinnati won both games and went into third place, ahead of the Cardinals. Chicago and Brooklyn batted hard for possession of fifth place the last of the week, and the Cubs, through eleven winning victories on both Friday and Saturday, gained the leadership of the second division.

Now that prices are high it is more than ever important that you give careful consideration to the roof you are going to put on. You can save real money and get a better roof by using

Certain-teed
Roofing

Thru quality and sheer merit as a roofing material CERTAIN-TEED is now being used as the preferable type of roofing for sky-scrappers, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

It is economical to buy, inexpensive to lay and costs practically nothing to maintain. It is weather-tight, light weight, clean, sanitary and fire-retardant. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed State-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes

The name CERTAIN-TEED on a can of paint or varnish is the same guarantee of quality and satisfaction it is on a roll of roofing or a bundle of shingles. Made for all uses and in all colors.

BASEBALL PART OF JAPANESE "CONSOLIDATION" PROGRAM IN MANCHURIA

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Tokyo, Aug. 11.—America's national pastime, baseball, is to be used by Japan as part of her "consolidation" program in Manchuria. To strengthen the ties between the home country and the sprawling empire in Manchuria, two Japanese college nines will go to Manchuria this summer to play exhibition games and instruct the natives in the sport.

Oddly enough, the people who take a lot of joy out of life actually get a lot out of it.

WHY ENLIST?
"Why should I give up a good job in the country and go to war for fifty cents a day?"

The above illuminating remark was overheard in a railroad train the other day. Apparently the fellow was not worrying so much about the hazards of war. One would infer that if the government would pay him something more than the $2.50 per month he might be earning out in the fields, he would see the thing in a quite different light. Perhaps he would recognize that that is just about what his neck is worth.

In contrast to this one sees the flower of our youth in colleges and schools assuming cheerfully the hazards of battle. It is the pathetic side of war that while sluggards and dandies would stop a bullet just as well as anyone, it has to be the men of initiative and courage and decision who are subjected to this futile waste.

There are some men so constituted that they do not feel under obligation to their country. The pay envelope is their flag. If an enemy country offered them better wages, they would cheerfully go there—it they could get there without harm to their precious skins.

Such men may have great hulking bodies, but the soul seems left out. Of course people of this kind bring their own peculiar punishment on themselves. They are psychologically constituted without the sentiment of loyalty. They may have animal strength and are able to dig ditches or hoe crops. They will not starve as long as their hunger drives them into the cornfield. But this lack of loyalty will not show itself merely in shirking their duty to their country. It will also be apparent in their relations with their employers and their home community. A disloyal worker is of little use in any gang. If hard times come, they may wish they had taken Uncle Sam's meager fifty cents a day and the board and clothes that go with it.

PEACE PROPOSALS.

Usually when war is declared against another power that nation is the first to suggest peace terms. But now it remains for Wisconsin's pro-German, anti-American, self-exalting United States senator to suggest peace terms. Wisconsin has had enough to bow its head in shame for in the past few months without this last burden to bear. Today in camp, at the state reservation, are some twelve thousand soldier boys who have responded to the nation's call for troops to help fight its battles. They have enlisted with no thought of being slackers, of being peace advocates, beyond showing the world that the youth of this nation are ready and prepared to meet any emergency. Thousands of others have enrolled themselves in the navy, the marines, the hospital corps, the aviation and the signal divisions, all with the one spirit of patriotism. If Germany wants peace with the United States let Germany make the first overtures. It is not fitting that the United States do so. It is safe to say that when the final peace terms are made between this country and Germany, or any other country this nation is at war with. Robert M. La Follette will not be one of the commissioners to sign it. He may pose for the pro-German voters, but for Americans he stands as "nil" in the list of statesmen. If he escapes impeachment or recall before his term ends it will be one of the disgraces of this nation in the present dilemma.

IT IS FAIR WEEK.

Tomorrow the gates of the Janesville fair will be thrown open to the public and the great exhibit of southern Wisconsin will be in full operation. That it will attract crowds from all parts of the country and immediately territory, is most certain, for the management have spared no expense in making it a success. Some of the finest breed of the harness horses that will be seen on any track in the middle west are already stabled at the grounds, entered for the various races. The stock barns are already taxed to their capacity with blooded stock, many of the herds having come from a distance, while others from Rock county will astonish the average citizen by their grade and quality. Of course there are the various entertainments, the stolid looking porkeen, the shy sheep, the women's work, the chickens, the grains and the children's work, including both garden and school work, all having their proper places. The display of farm machinery is exceptionally good this year and there is something to interest everyone. Particularly at this time when so many have enjoyed their own gardens, they feel a bit closer in touch with the work along agricultural lines. As for the races they will delight everyone and will be hotly contested affairs if the men who know the game can be relied upon. In fact there will be plenty of amusement, and it is to be hoped the high water mark in attendance will be broken during the next few days.

A man who delivered munitions to the enemy would be called a traitor and driven out of the country, while a man who takes away food from ourselves and our allies by boosting prices is still received in the best society.

Remember this is "Fair Week" and is prepared to attend as many times as you can. Going one day will not permit you to fully appreciate the exhibits the board of directors have brought together for your benefit.

The people along the Atlantic coast are reminded that it is not necessary to call out the Home Guards whenever the railroad makes a noise like firing by throwing track ties out on the embankment.

Those million men who were going to spring to arms over-night will have to spring some distance to the factories where the delayed orders for those arms are still unfilled.

The city man who removed to the country to help the country, had an awfully hard time for a while, not being waked up in the dead of night by trolley cars and ice carts.

The exhaustion of cold storage products indicates that the country must take a long and affectionate farewell of those 1907 eggs on which it has so long subsisted.

White the congressmen are dilly-dallying, they should reflect that they were sent to Washington more to protect the country than to protect their own fences.

Another way in which some people feel that they are helping out the government an awful lot is by criticizing anyone who is trying to do anything.

Many people don't want to go to work on farms, because the chances for acquiring nervous prostration out in the country are so limited.

While our enemies are plotting how they can invade us, our politicians are plotting how they can get re-elected.

Many men who are fearful of getting shot if they enlist, entertain no dread of getting shot.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY K. MOULTON

"IF WE ALL COULD!
When, as is now the case, the day
I more than merely hot.
Oh, little child across the way.
I envy your lot.

Not that your simple hours are free
Of any work to do.
It is not this that causes me
To wish that I were you.

Not yet because you frisk and sport
So happily and oft.
And it is not because in short,
You have it pretty soft.

But when I bake and fry and roast
And mean and fuss and swear,
Oh, then it is I envy most
The simple garb you wear.

When it is hot it's when I view
You at your play, slack,
And wish that I wore rompers too
That button up the back!

Wise Words.
"It helps but little in the strife."
Says Uncle Amos Bigger.
"To have a noble aim in life
And never pull the trigger."

Vacation for Regulars. The new reserve officers' training camp will be officially opened Aug. 27. In the meantime the regular army officers assigned to the fort, the men who have worked so zealously to turn out officers that will be credit to the Stars and Stripes, will be given a little rest.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

George M. Cohan's second movie, "Sweden," and she has been America's nearly ready for presentation. It's since 1907. IF WAR IS HELL, WHAT'S FILM ACTING? George M. Cohan's stage play, "Broadway," During the filming of the new play, Mrs. Nilsson, his lead, has appeared in numerous serials, "The Red Ace," "Marie Wal-movie." She was born at Yatad, Sweden, an injured nose, this nose having collided with someone's fist; Clarence Wertz fell from a tree and injured his left arm; W. F. Parrotte and Miriam Sheppard fell from a projecting rock and each cracked several ribs; Bobbie Mack's thigh was cut when he was thrown from his horse; Fred Granville, chief cinematographer, nearly lost his life through a rattle-snake bite, and several other members of the company sustained an assortment of bruises while fighting a forest fire. Is this company harboring a black cat as a mascot?

Ruth Stonehouse has found the triple role of author, director and actor too strenuous. Hereafter she will appear only as an actor. Louis Claudet will direct. Her latest production is "The Little Swede," which is soon to be released.

Hayden Talbot, playwright of note, who turned out many comedies for Oliver Messing, is engaged with the Misses Barronelle and J. Warren Kerrigan concerns and will devote his attention to providing them with stories hereafter.

Al Ray joined the Film as a writer. When one of the comedians fell down in his part, Mr. Ray was asked to fill the breach. He surprised them all with his ability and is now the company's juvenile.

Buckport, Me., is the scene of much festivity. Dustin and William Farnum are back to their native town for a visit.

PAVEMENT DANCE FOR THE RED CROSS

Novel Entertainment Planned for Wednesday Evening to Raise Money for Local Chapter.

Janesville's first pavement dance will be held Wednesday evening of this week at the corner of Division street and St. Lawrence avenue, for the benefit of the Red Cross. Under the direction of Mrs. Louis Levy and Mrs. Herbert Ford of the local chapter, the arrangements are to be completed and all Janesville is invited to be present.

Division street, between St. Lawrence and South Second, will be especially prepared for dancing. It will be swept clear of all pebbles, and rolled down hard then sprinkled with sand to make a dancing surface. The Bover City Band will play, and one-piece pieces will be on hand to furnish the music. The grand march, which will start the evening's festivities, will be held promptly at eight o'clock, led by Mr. and Mrs. George Hatch; dancing will continue until eleven o'clock.

Ice cream and cake will be served on the lawn of Mrs. A. P. Loveloy's home, and everything possible will be done for the comfort and amusement of the guests. This is the first pavement dance held in Janesville, though they have been very popular elsewhere, and a large crowd is expected.

The Red Cross has had added tasks assigned to it in the rush of war work and needs the support of the entire city. It is the hope of those in charge of the affair that a large sum of money will be realized.

Janesville's Cardinals and Fort Atkinson's Rebels gained a lap on the Goslins in the Central league pennant race on Sunday, and are notched for second place in the Watertown bin, on only two games ahead.

The Cardinals claim the honors for the day, having beaten the Goslins at Watertown in a game which was rather loosely played, largely on account of the condition of the field. The score was six to four.

Whitewater was potted out by the Rebels at Fort Atkinson. This game was also played in the rain and had to be stopped for a time.

The comedy game of the day was at Jefferson, where the Jeffs walloped the Rockford Maroons for twenty-three hits and the same number of runs. Lucas started and walked the first three men; he was pulled, and Ackerson was pounded all over the lot.

Fort Atkinson, 3. Whitewater, 1. Fort Atkinson, Wis., Aug. 13.—The locals won an interesting game on Sunday, 3 to 1. Singles by Britz and Muench, L. Brielmaier's error, and Couture's double scored two runs in the fourth. The score:

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am member of the national guard and my camp is located in a very nice neighborhood. As we are now on duty all of the time I have had no chance to get acquainted more or less with the people living around here. Some of them are very "snippy" and will not talk to me because I am in uniform, though everyone is quite informal here; but there is one little girl in whom I have become quite interested. I believe that she also cares for one because whenever we meet on a street she always walks away from the camp and talk and she seems real pleasant to me. She wants me to take her to a picture show near here, but I have understood that it is not good taste to "pick up" girls like this. This seems different, though, and if we love each other, wouldn't it be all right to continue with her? I am very anxious to have an answer as I may be called away some time.

HELEN S.
Tell her you know that your quarrel is just silly and that you really like her. Invite her to come over to your house for dinner or to a party if you are going to give one. Ask her if there has been some misunderstanding that you are willing to make up, and you will undoubtedly find that she has been looking for just such a chance to make up with you, but didn't do it because she was unwilling to take the initiative.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My friend and I just finished high school this spring and we are both going to a small college near here. As our parents have not got much money we cannot afford to get a lot of dresses and our clothes for the college and we would like to have you tell us what kind of clothes would be necessary. She is a blonde and I am quite dark, but we look well together.

You are right in trying to get acquainted with the nice people who live in the neighborhood of your camp, but only when they make the first approach; otherwise you will be considered fresh. It is nice of the girl to be interested in you, and in a case like this I don't believe I should consider that you "picked her up." She is living so near you, it is natural she may be a gradual acquaintance. She is wrong, though, in wanting you to take her to a moving picture show—especially in letting you know she wants you to, as you should have asked her first. If I were you I would put the thought of love out of my mind and don't give her any reason to think that you love her or that she should love you. The fact that you are likely to be called to service soon is reason enough why you should not make it hard for you two to part. Be nice to the little girl since she has been so to you, but don't let it go any further.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a very dear friend with whom I have had a quarrel. We have always been together since we were quite young and there seems to be no reason why we can't make up. What should I do to make up with her?

HELEN S.

RECIPES WELL WORTH TRYING.
Mock Orange Marmalade—Grind one and one-half large Carrots through the meat grinder, add just enough boiling water to cook it, and cut it up tender. Then grind two lemons, peel all the rind off the grinder, cook them separately and combine the whole with two cups of sugar.

Spinach Souffle—Pick Spinach carefully from the stalks; put it into plenty of boiling water with some salt and boil for ten minutes. Drain it and squeeze well, then chop very fine and pass through a sieve. Put in a piece of butter, a little lemon juice and some cream. Mix with some good stock or gravy; let all boil together until very thick, then add the yolks of some eggs. Whip up the whites of the eggs and add them; put in a souffle tin and bake for the proper time. Strew a little hard-boiled egg over the top and serve.

Hungarian Cheese Noodle—For two cups of flour, add two eggs, mix bowl and knead, divide in three parts and roll out to dry; cut them as wide as desired, have boiling salt water, drop noodles and boil five minutes; then drain and throw into cold water for a minute; melt one-fourth pound butter, pour over noodles, shake well; use two pounds cottage cheese, mix all together and bake five minutes. Hot oven.

Apple Roll With Lemon Sauce—Roll rich custard dough thin and spread with chopped apples and a little sugar and nutmeg. Roll up like a jelly roll and bake brown. Serve in slices with sauce made from one egg well beaten with one-half cup sugar and lemon juice to suit taste.

Baked Salad Dressing—Unexcelled—Two eggs, one-half teaspoon mustard, one-half teaspoon flour, three table-spoons sugar, one-half cup vinegar, one-half cup water. Allow to chicken or stove; when cold add one-half pint whipped cream.

CHEAP MEAL—Take two large eggplants or four very small ones, for a family of four.

Cut in two, scoop out, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and then butter. Fill with 10 cents worth of lean beef cut in small pieces, add onions, bread, salt, pepper, with celery salt, and table salt again, cover with scooped out part, and put in slow oven.

The oven heat can be utilized to bake four apples (or more if one wants to have some for breakfast) and there might be space for potatoes.

The egg plant should bake nearly, while not quite—an hour and a half, while a half hour is sufficient to bake apples.

These can be served hot or cold as one prefers. They should bake well enough to burst open, when chopped walnuts can be added, and pulverized sugar and cream poured on them. This makes the dessert.

Salad, say, of lettuce and tomato, should be added, with mayonnaise or French dressing, if preferred.

FLY REMEDY—Brush a little "laurel oil" over the backs of one or two pictures in each room and you will find every fly hunting a way out of the house.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM

So-called muscular rheumatism is a inflammation of tendon-sheath or of the fascia or membrane which divides groups of muscles. The muscle itself is very rarely inflamed. However, it hurts to use the muscle, so the name stands.

This painful affection has been too often confused with the lameness or soreness of muscles which follows violent exercise. Athletes know that gentle use of the muscles which are involved will prevent such soreness; amateurs make the mistake of letting the muscles rest too long and suffer from the resulting stiffness.

It is notable that vegetarians or semi-vegetarians are less susceptible to muscle stiffness following exertion than are meat eaters. It is true that sudden chill of a basketball player after hard after pitching is likely to give the muscles stiff and sore. To call this "taking cold" does not explain the lameness. Let the same pitcher take a sweat bath and become suddenly chilled, and no unpleasant results will follow, because the bath has not increased the quantity of waste material irritants in the muscle, and hence nothing is left there to make the muscle lame, even if the circulation is somewhat interrupted.

Exercise, on the other hand, does fill the muscle with the products of combustion, and if these are retained soreness is sure to follow.

Thank your lucky stars when you get real muscular rheumatism that it isn't appendicitis, arthritis or valvular disease. Congratulate yourself if the Streptococcus virus has not happened to have an affinity for tendon-fascia or fascia in your case, instead of having an affinity for the lymphoid tissue of your appendix or the endothelial tissue of your joints or heart valves. Breathe a silent prayer of gratitude and begin the search for the inevitable septic focus whence the Streptococcus virus comes.

If an infant is fed on mother's milk, orange juice, graham crackers and a little cereal from its 12th to 15th month, it is deprived of needed nourishment? (J. R. P.)

Answer—Yes, that diet is pretty slim for a human animal. The milk should be fed straight, and the baby should have also fresh meat, broth at least three times a day, and a little mashed potato, eggs, bread, and asparagus to supply needed vitamins, and a variety which will develop the digestive organs. Don't baby babies too long. It makes them weaklings.

A NEW THEORY.

Does anyone know who composed the music of "The Star Spangled Banner"? The American Anthem, Heaven, composed by John Smith, an Englishman, about 1770, is the original music of our national anthem, according to a recruiting official of the United States Marine Corps.

Asacreon was an ancient Greek poet, a scrophuliferous and great drunkard. The Young Maryland lawyer, Francis Scott Key, set the words of his masterpiece to the tune of Smith's hymnal inspiration.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

(Miss Hoyt will answer in this paper all questions on matters of etiquette addressed to her in care of this paper. If a personal answer is desired enclose a two-cent stamp.)

When attending hotel dances young girls can order iced tea, coffee, chocolate, ginger ale, lemonade, orange juice, or grape juice. The correct thing to wear at such dances is a suit or afternoon dress with hat to match.

EL T.—The hostess at an afternoon reception should wear a high-necked or slightly decollete gown.

It should be very handsome, elaborately trimmed, trained, and is usually light in color. With this are worn jewels, and white or very light colored gloves.

Polly, "young fellow" is a mere human being like yourself, and should be treated accordingly. Talk to him about all the things he is interested in, in a sensible and entertaining manner. Association with a young man should be commonplace as that with your girl friends. There is no reason for making an excuse to him, or to any other person merely because he is the opposite sex. Be jolly, amusing, and don't forget to treat him with all the courtesy due to anyone in your company.

UNABLE TO SLEEP SHE TRIES SUICIDE

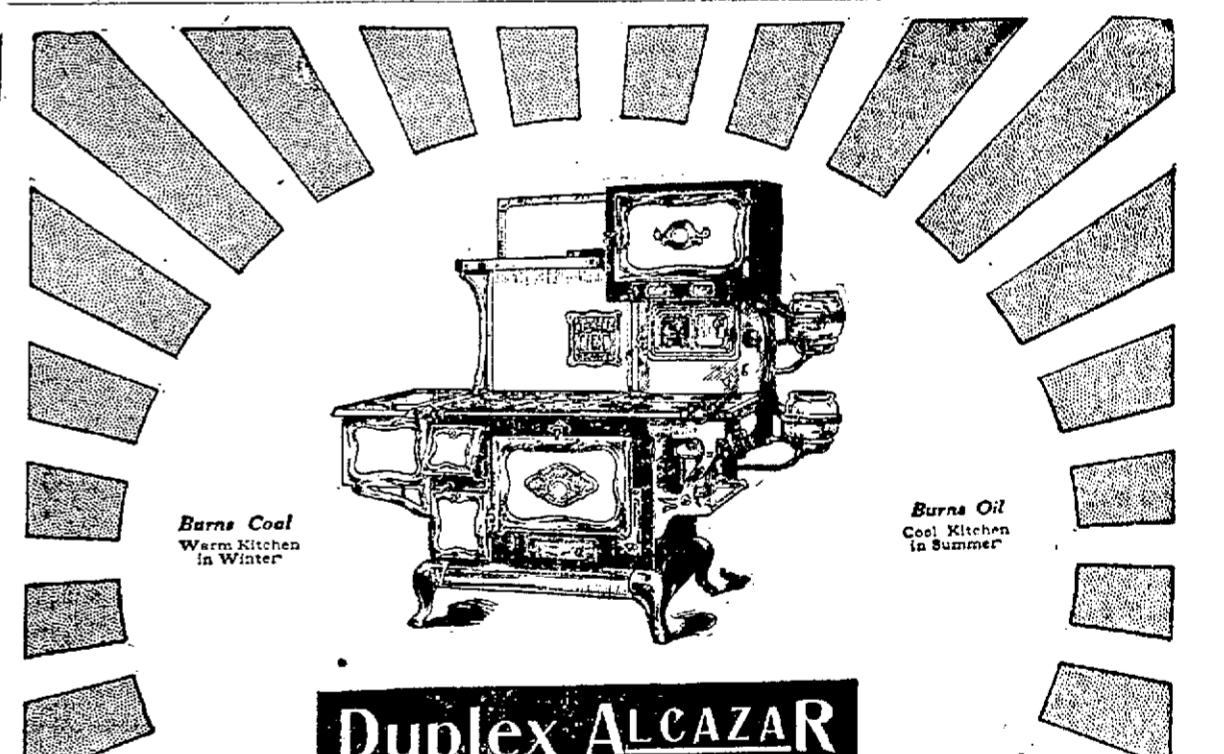

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Sheboygan, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Frederika Born, aged eighty, unable to sleep, due to chronic asthma, attempted to drown herself in Lake Michigan this morning. Walking to the lake, two blocks from her home, before any of her relatives were awake, Mrs. Born waded into the water, out in the middle of the lake, and lay down in two feet of water. A watching boy from a local factory, seeing her in the lake, towed her into shore. She was unconscious, and was rushed to a hospital in the ambulance. It is said pneumonia will develop.

The spy was rolling a cigarette and his half-closed eyes had a murderous glint in them.

"Me, for instance?" he inquired cynically.

"Anybody," said Stanton absently. He was going over the list of stockholders again and had scarcely heard what Shaw had said.

"That brings us down to business, Mr. Stanton," said the ex-railroad clerk slowly. "I'm not getting money enough out of this to cover the risk—my risk."

The man at the desk looked up quickly.

"What's that you say? By heavens, Shaw, I've spoken once, and I'll do it just this one time more: you sing small if you want to keep out of jail!"

Shaw had lighted his cigarette and was edging toward the door.

"Not this trip, Mr. Stanton," he said coolly. "If you've got me, I've got you. I can find two men who will go into court and swear that you paid Mrs. Stuarts money to have Smith sandbagged, that day out at Stuarts' place at the dam! I may have to go to jail as you say; but I'll bet you five to one that you'll beat me to it!" And with that he snapped the catch on the locked door and went away.

Some three hours after this rather hostile clash with the least trustee they by far the most able of his henchmen, Crawford Stanton left his wife chattering comfortably with Miss Richlander in the hotel parlors and went reluctantly to keep an appointment which he had been dreading ever since the early afternoon hour when a wire had come from Copah directing him to meet the "Nevada Flyer" upon its arrival at Brewster. The public knew the name signed to the telegram as that of a millionaire statesman; but Stanton knew it best as the name of a hard and not overscrupulous master.

The train was whistling for the station when Stanton descended from his cab and hurried down the long platform. A white-jacketed porter was waiting to admit him to the presence when the train came to a stand, and as he climbed into the vestibule of the luxurious private car, Stanton got what comfort he could out of the thought that the interview would necessarily be limited by the "ten minutes" engine-changing stop of the fast train.

Stanton, ten minutes later, made a flying leap from the moving train. At the cab rank he found the motor cub which he had hired for the drive down from the hotel. Climbing in, he gave a hasty order to the chauffeur. Simultaneously a man wearing the softest

Skin trouble costs many a man his job

No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin-eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid, they avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Way run this risk, when of "nats" lounged away from his post or observation under a nearby electric pole and ran across the railroad plaza to unhook and mount a wiry little pony. Once in the saddle, however, the mounted man did not hurry his horse. Having overheard Stanton's order giving, there was no need to keep the motor cub in sight as it sputtered through the streets and out upon the background mesa. Its ill-smelling exhaust ending at a lonely roadside in the mesa hills on the Topaz trail.

When the hired vehicle came to a stand in front of the lighted barroom of the roadside house, Stanton gave a waiting order to the driver and went in. Of the dog-faced barkeeper he asked an abrupt question, and at the man's jerk of a thumb toward the rear, the porter passed on and entered the private room at the back.

The private room had but one occupant—the man Lanterry, who was sitting behind a round card table and vainly endeavoring to make one of the pair of empty whisky glasses spin in a complete circuit about a black bottle standing on the table.

The hired car was still waiting when Stanton went out through the barroom and gave the driver his return orders. And because the night was dark, neither of the two at the car saw the man in the soft hat straighten himself up from his crouching place under the blackened square of outer darkness lying beyond the office window.

"She could, Billy—but she won't," he answered.

"You can dig up your last dollar and bet on that, can you?"

"Yes, I think I can."

"H'm; that's just what I was most afraid of!"

"Don't be an ass, Billy."

"I'm trying mighty hard not to be, John, but sometimes the ears will grow on the best of us—in spite of the devil. What I mean is this: I saw you two when you came out of the Hopfrau dining room together last night, and I saw the look in that girl's eyes. Do you know what I said to myself right then, John? I said: 'Oh, you little girl out at the Hillcrest ranch—good-by you!'"

Smith's grin was half antagonistic. "You are an ass, Billy," he asserted. "I never was in love with Verda Richlander, nor she with me."

"Speak for yourself and let it hang there, John. You can't speak for the whole world."

"I was. But the little girl's run away again; gone with her sister—Maxwell's wife, you know—to Denver to get her teeth fixed; and I'm footloose. Been butting in a little on your game, this evening, just to be doing. How's tricks with you, now?"

"We're strictly in the fight," declared Smith enthusiastically. "We closed the deal today for the last half-mile of the main ditch right of way, which runs up on the mesa slope above." The Escalante grant. If they knock out now, they'll have to do it with dynamite."

"Yes," said the ex-cowman, thoughtfully; "with dynamite." Then: "How is Williams getting along?"

"Fine! The water is crawling up on him a little every night, but with no accidents, he'll be able to hold the mud rise when it comes. The only thing that worries me now is the time limit."

"The time limit?" echoed Starbuck. "What's that?"

"It's the handicap we inherit from the original company. Certain state rights to the water were conveyed in the old charter, on condition that the project should be completed, or at least far enough along to turn water into the ditches, by a given date. This time limit, which carries over from Timpanogos Ditch to Timpanogos High Line, expires next week. We're petitioning for an extension, but if we don't get it we shall still be able to back the water up so that it will flow into the lower level of ditches by next Thursday; that is, barring accidents."

"Yes; with no accidents," mused Starbuck. "Can't get shot of the 'if,' no way nor shape, can we? So that's why the Stanton people have been fighting so wolfishly for delay, is it? John, this is a wicked, wicked world."

Then he switched abruptly. "Where did you corral all those good looks you took to the opera house last night, John?"

Smith's laugh was strictly perfidious.

"That was Miss Vera Richlander, an old friend of mine from back home. She is out here with her father, and the father has gone up into the Topaz country to buy him a gold brick."

"Not in the Topaz," Starbuck struck in lowly. "We don't make the bricks

Dinner Stories

The doctors were holding a consultation beside the bed of a man who was supposed to be harboring a dangerous bone.

"I believe," said one of the surgeons, "that we should wait and let him get a little stronger before cutting into him."

Before the other prospective operators could reply the patient turned his head and remarked to the nurse: "What do they take me for—cheese?"

H. H. Mencken, the Baltimore war correspondent, said on his return trip from Berlin:

"The German cattle are fed on straw alone. Hence the milk is very poor. Poor as it is, it's adulterated at that."

"As a man with a milk can entered a Berlin dairy one day he heard the boss say:

"Fritz, never milk the cows while they are eating."

"The man with the card laughed scornfully."

"Fritz," said he, "judging by the milk you sell here, I think you'd do better never to milk the cows while they're drinking."

Spring cleaning was in progress and inauspicious it was hard to find. The widow asked her "charlady" if the widow would bring her husband along one day to assist in moving some heavy furniture. The man came, and the widow was astonished to see how battered his face looked. "Has your poor husband had an accident?" asked the widow.

"Oh, no, mum; that's what happened when we had a few words not long ago."

"Dear me, Mrs. Scrubbs! Did you do that? What a shame! He seems such a nice, quiet man, too!"

The charwoman took her lips.

"He is now, mum," she said meaningly.
